

EDI/CMDO Workshop (Activity in French)

June 18, 2021 - 12h30PM to 4PM (ZOOM platform)

Click Here – Mandatory free registration/Submit an abstract

«CLEARLY IDENTIFY WHY AND HOW TO INTEGRATE EDI (EQUITY/DIVERSITY/INCLUSION) AT DIFFERENT STAGES OF HEALTH RESEARCH»

FOLLOWING THIS WORKSHOP, THE PARTICIPANT SHOULD BE ABLE TO :

- Gain a practical perspective on how to integrate IDE into research (workplace and research projects) ;
- Write a scientific abstract integrating IDE issues;
- Summarize the strengths and limitations of existing IDE-related projects;

ACTIVITIES : Presentation of key EDI concepts, presentation of two patient-centered research projects, thematic subgroup activities and a co-construction session of the knowledge acquired during the workshop;

SUBMIT AN ABSTRACT OF YOUR RESEARCH PROGRAM! (2 100 characters including spaces) : In subgroups, the summaries will be reviewed and constructive feedback will be provided. Each participant agrees to review 3 summaries during the workshop and to keep confidential all summaries to which they have access.

SPEAKER – DR. RUTH NDJABOUE is completing a postdoctoral fellowship at Université Laval (Quebec City, Canada), funded by Diabetes Action Canada, The Society for Medical Decision Making and the Betty and Gordon Moore Foundation. Her current work focuses on patient-centered and Knowledge translation approaches in health research. Dr Ndjaboue holds a PhD in Epidemiology (Université Laval, Canada), a master in Public Health School (Université Libre de Bruxelles, Belgium), a master in Psychology and a bachelor in Psychology (University of Yaounde I, Cameroon). Her multidisciplinary training allow her to contribute to the continuum of research, from observation to knowledge translation. Her research interests include psychosocial factors, chronic diseases, sex/gender, social health inequalities, and health education. She develops research methods integrating interdisciplinary, intervention studies and mix methods to improve health outcomes.

This workshop is open to all CMDO students, postdoctoral fellows and residents Deadline to register - June 7, 2021. Seats are limited!